FOREWARD

Life is divided into many phases which are connected by certain events. These events can be likened to bridges. IHS has been our bridge from childhood to adulthood for the past year. Within this year we have crossed many smaller, but important, bridges; our first prom, a winning basketball team, College Boards, final exams, class elections, new responsibilities and new goals to achieve.

Any bridge is only as strong as its supports. Although our "bridge" was small, the supports--our teachers, administrators and student body--made up in spirit what we lacked in size.

We hope this book will serve as a bridge of memories in future years to the pleasant warm friendship of the 1966--67 school year, another bridge crossed.

DEDICATION

We of the Bamboo staff, as representatives of the Itazuke High School student body, wish to dedicate this year's Bamboo to Mr. Vern Kempton. His helpful advice and work with the Bamboo have made it possible for us to have a yearbook to dedicate to him. We would simply like to say, "Thank you, Mr. Kempton."

Congratulations to the 1967 "Bamboo". This issue of the annual documents another outstanding year of education and student experiences in the Itazuke High School. Every year seems to re-emphasize the position our schools maintain in the mainstream of daily life within the Itazuke Complex. This is as it should be because balanced education is one of the greatest gifts that one generation can provide to another. We have attempted to give the best; we expect that level of performance in return.

This school year marks the completion of my assignment here. Soon, Mrs. Hamill and I will be departing our home on "School Hill". We'll miss Itazuke. The schools have been a special interest of ours. My official concern has extended from elementary school at Hakata Annex to the high school here, and I have been impressed with the quality of system that we have and the product it is producing. Every man, woman and child in this Complex should share in the credit, because the breadth of education today requires participation and support by both parent and student.

As school rapidly draws to a close, you students are to be congratulated on your academic accomplishments this year; I hope that each of you have set your sights toward earning your college diploma ... now is the time to begin. Best wishes to each of you, especially to the senior class.

COLONEL ROBERT S. HAMILL, Commander

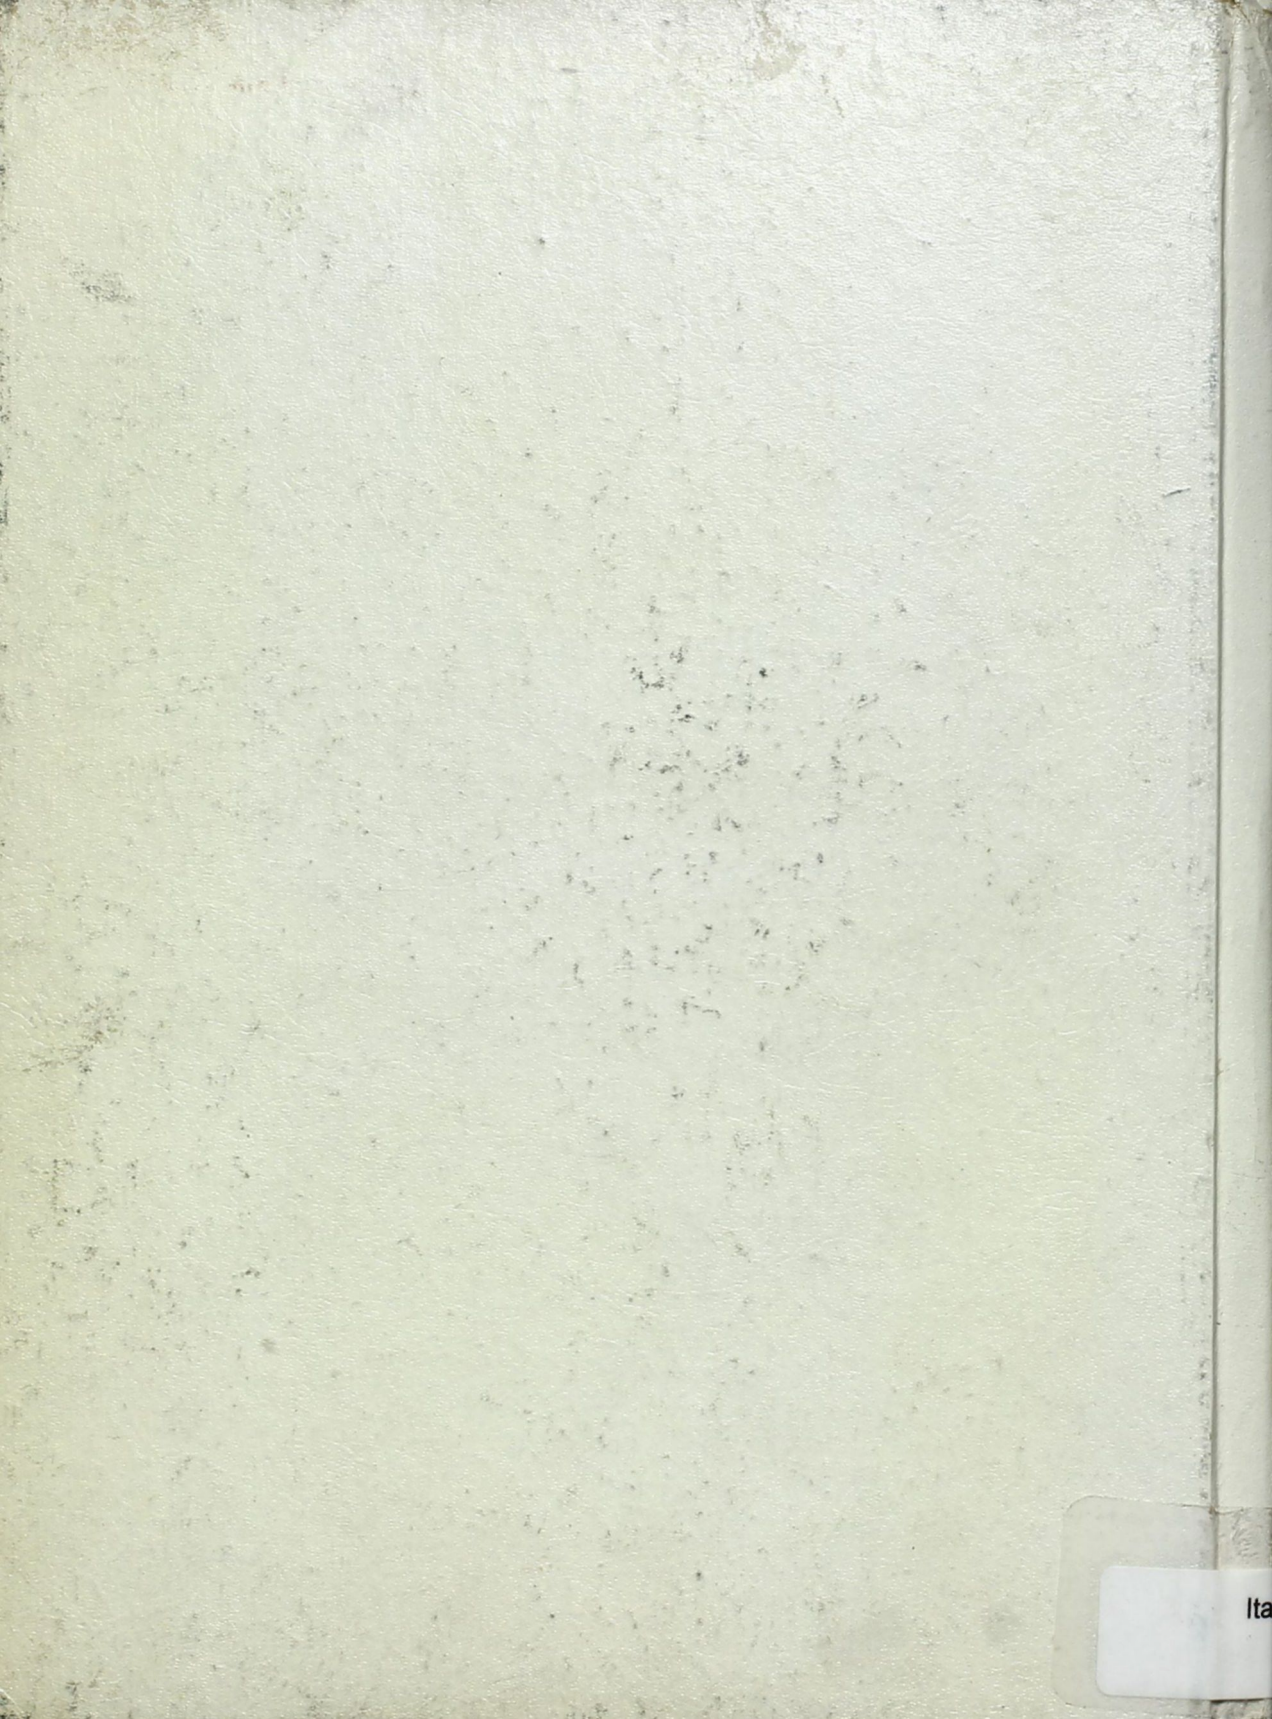

Bamboo Staff and Itazuke Dependents' School Student Body

You honored administration on the first pages of the yearbook. I join our Base Commander in extending, thanks, congratulations and commendation to you on the last page. Please take it as a symbol of our present and future "backing".

You have been an inspiration to me during my principalship at Itazuke. Thank you for your cooperation and your kind considerations. May your future be crowned with success!

Sayonara,

JOHN D. CATES
